Important Note. This checklist is specifically prepared for full service radio and television stations licensed to New Jersey and New York for which a renewal application was timely filed and granted during the last renewal cycle. If your 2014 (radio) or 2015 (television) license renewal application has not yet been granted, do not use this checklist. Network-owned television stations have additional responsibilities for materials in the public file.

FCC Online Public Inspection Files. All television stations must upload almost all public file materials to the Online Public Inspection Files at: <https://publicfiles.fcc.gov/admin/>.

All commercial radio stations in the top 50 Nielsen radio markets with five or more full-time employees are required to upload all new local public file materials, excepting existing political files and letters and emails from the public, to the Online Public Inspection Files at: <https://publicfiles.fcc.gov/admin/>.

All other radio stations have until March 1, 2018 to begin uploading new public and political file material. Radio stations that are not required to transition to the online public file until March 1, 2018 may elect to voluntarily transition to online filing early. Any station that voluntarily elects to commence using the online file early must ensure that the online file contains all new public file material on a going-forward basis, including all new political file material.

The Online Public Inspection File, once activated for a station, will automatically contain required FCC filings that are submitted through CDBS or LMS, and will also contain contour maps (categories preceded with a "↑" above).

For stations that continue to maintain a local public inspection file, either until March 1, 2018 for all materials, or for existing political file materials, and for all stations for letters and emails from the public, the local public file must be at the station's main studio and accessible during regular business hours.
